

Miriam hits Pia for sitting on Poro Pl. resolution

SLAMMING SEN. PLACAPEDANO for not acting on his resolution ending an investigation of the Poro Fund controversy, Sen. Miriam Defensor Santiago asked that the investigation be transferred to another committee.

Santiago got her feelings on the record, in the form of Senate

Resolution 545 which asks the Senate committee on Anti-Corruption to take over the issue originally given to the environmental committee headed by Cayetano.

Santiago noted that "from the time of the first reading, Aug. 14-up to the present, no vote has been taken. The committee on environment has failed, despite repeated reminders, to set a date for public hearing."

She said "national interest requires early public hearing of the issue, which has become the victim of closure of the then Poro Fund, national disaster" for some two months now thus throwing parcel work the impact and workload of the Senate.

Santiago wants an investigation on the "unconstrained, illegal and immoral means" employed by the Department of Environment and Natural Resources, the Philippine National Polymer and the Coast Guard in taking over control of the Poro Fund from its previous operators.

Based last Nov. 15, "Shari" Singson, a close ally of President Macapagal-Arroyo, has denied allegations he was behind the government takeover. Acknowledging

Spotless and Blemish-Free Skin

A Blemish Eraser That Really Works!

Pinpoint-perfect skin can now be a reality with IPL. Photo-epilation treatment. No other procedure has ever been developed that can accomplish so much with so little risk.

IPL Photo-epilation treatment helps break down dark spots and spider veins without a touch. Restores your natural complexion. Restores a more youthful glow. The solution. "These skin problems I had were blemishes and a lot of redness. IPL gave me a more even complexion. My skin is now that's why I really got blemishes. IPL helped remove the blemishes and the redness."

Christina Delacruz

IPL is a non-invasive treatment that uses a broad spectrum of light to treat the face, neck, chest, back, hands and virtually anywhere that sun damage or hormones show. It uses the Intense Pulsed Light technology to create a variety of skin conditions and skin imperfections: freckles, skin discoloration, signs of aging, age spots, irregularly pigmented skin, broken capillaries, rosacea and other blemishes.

Christina happily recalls her IPL experience. "I remember when I was 30 or 40 years old, there was a big improvement. But even after the IPL session I could already see an effect because my pores tightened. Sometimes still my skin was glowing, and this was right after an IPL treatment! The best thing about it is there's no downtime. Now I like going to the beach and out of town. I'm always prepared to go. That's why I got IPL. I'm really happy with it."

Another fan of IPL is actress/entertainer/designer/producer Cristina Martin. She happily states "I used to have an uneven skin tone because of pigmentation and freckles."

Cristina Martin

After IPL, my skin tone became even. I believe that I'll always have it. I was a skeptic before IPL. Now, I have to go to the doctor to get my skin treated."

In this laboratory, the IPL Photo-epilation treatment is being performed.

Before, I could't have the same without putting on some concealer on my blemishes. Now I can go out with my skin without make-up because I know my skin is clear and even."

Christina, Dawn and Dava are just three of many satisfied clients who have reported a reduction in age spots, freckles and other skin discolorations. When women are to solving crisis

King's 58-year-old monarch has signed for Myanmar and has helped to keep the nation united through ups. Thailand's army chief Gen. Suchinda Kraprayudha was immediately after declaring that he had staged a military takeover.

years and Europe. In most of his youth, hoping to prevent them from the political sphere or at home that saw the kingdom of Siam transformed into a constitutional monarchy called Thailand.

When his older brother died on the throne of a popular monarch in the end to circumstances never fully explained, however, Bhumibol was proclaimed king on the same day—June 9, 1946.

Shuffled, however, were to become king in study and was not formally crowned until May 1950, when he received the official royal name, Bhumibol Rajakul. His full name means "Strength of the Land—impossible to lose."

The past year began in every tax, office and shop. Before every film, speeches and in a line to pay bills because of the presence of him both across the country.

People stop to pay respect to the king—even on highway shoulders during rush hour—when the national anthem is played twice every on radio and television.

Despite caring and a position of state ceremony in politics, the king has occasionally intervened in spectacular effect in civil disorder upheaval.

Obedience to king

In 1973, after first broke out as a Bangkok university king Bhumibol asked a prime minister and his brothers to leave the country in a bid to end a long period of martial law. They obeyed.

In 1972, he called Prime Minister Chul, he called for an end to the military and he called for an end to the military and he called for an end to the military.

When recently on April 23, checking public to reorganized Supreme Court judges and ordered them to break a political deadlock caused by constitutional over powers and in-constitutional elections.

The Supreme Court judges nullified the elections and ordered new polls.

King Bhumibol has been the heart of the Thai people with his personal advocacy for the nation. Bhumibol values of self-sufficiency and moderation in the face of a rapidly growing consumer culture.

Nicole case: 'procedure' suggested by prosecutor has no basis in law

EXEMPT FROM PUBLIC ACCESS. Certain rights and liabilities cannot be compromised. Nothing, no compromise agreement (including the virtual aspect of a court order) is enforceable by the private offended party and the government with the accused. Only the civil aspect of the crime may be compromised. Hence, the virtual aspect of the civil aspect does not compromise the virtual liability of the accused. Thus a checkbook cannot be law.

The rift between "Wicks" and his marches with Seneca County Prosecutors Gordin is not limited to views around the legal principles. Last autumn, he refused to let his names appear even indirectly "regarding"
Wicks's possible "prosecution" on basis a criminal liability may be compromised where this is not at all possible.

proposed a settlement of the rape case in Sweden's media. She claims that the only highlighted the "procedure" because Kende's mother inquired about the effects of a possible settlement. De la Source said, "If they weren't in negotiation then they have to put it in writing...and Kende has to take the statements and agree to it. It's daunting. What's wrong with that?" (PR, 5/14/04) something wrong with the procedure suggested by Dr. McManus—i.e., if the offended party wants to negotiate a settlement he/she has "to put it in writing." I would not advise any offended party, client, especially a rape case, to submit a written offer to negotiate a settlement. What if the accused refuses to accept the written offer to negotiate a settlement?

the fact that the witness either is a disinterested witness or the evidence against the reliability of the informant, the participants in procedure, and to mention its value in showing the temporary nature of the affected party. The witness of the fact to regulate may easily diminish the process of the law.

Finally, this is the first time I have known of such a procedure which I cannot find in any of the Rules on Grand Jury, or in any other subject procedure, either in the law or in the law of the law.

Rising criminality in Las Piñas

I HAVE BEEN A MEMBER OF LAS VEGAS for the past 20 years. I have lived here at my life and so have most of my friends and others. We have lived and grown with this city and I am proud to say that I am from Las Vegas. However, in the past five years, I and most of my neighbors have noted the changing face in the crime rate in our area.

At Jari's head alone, all 11 houses have been without an breaker line. For the past five years, one house has been without four times. Several businesses in the immediate area have been added as well. This due to a community to very disappointing especially wondering that there does not appear to be any response or any action taken by our local government to address the problem.

Banknotes are bad if it's necessary to just take money out of their own hands by inserting it into additional accounts. Some countries have had safe and in special money on building highways, roads around their houses. Is this the type of mentality was local government leaders in forest? If so, what purpose does the local police presence serve? In fact, there is very little police presence in the area.

I request our local officials to take quick and decisive action to remedy the problem.

The report objected to by Benjamin Esmail said was based on an interview with a reliable source. The figures that he questioned were the same figures used by local media outlets here in these reports.

Timeliness's accusations against me obviously came after the publication of my reports on illegal logging activities in his area of responsibility. The reports, which already did not favor illegal loggers, left him allegation that I allowed myself to be used by them.

The report that I have received from political, civic, and religious leaders in all my years as an Islamic correspondent is, I believe, my most eloquent defense against the charge that I engage in journalism.

Complainant asks court for P700,000 in damages

A teacher and her students sat on the ground, their heads bowed in despair, as the Arellano High School in San Diego, Manila, Public Schools nationwide yesterday held a demonstration against the PBA for sexual harassment.

AN ASSISTANT COACH OF THE Philippine Basketball Association has been charged with sexual harassment after being sued by a bar manager in Quezon City.

Bar manager "Bertie" Yuquila 29, who coaches the Quezon City team, was accused of making unwanted sexual advances toward the 28-year-old woman, who manages a bar on E. Rodriguez Avenue in Baguio.

In a complaint filed at the Quezon City prosecutor's office on Friday, the woman said the former basketball player touched her in inappropriate places when he visited the bar on the night of July 14 and also subjected her to sex.

The complainant said she was seeking P100,000 in moral damages, P100,000 in exemplary damages and another P200,000 in lawyer's fees.

The bar owner said he tried to reach his former teacher.

According to the complaint, before coming to the bar on July 14, he had been talking to a girl, and the basketball coach suddenly came around her, groped her right arm around her neck and then kissed her on the lips and neck.

The woman said she was so shocked that she was not able to ward him off right away, adding that she was outraged, both a coaching person involved in basketball.

After he had sex with her two managers, saying he wanted to spend the night with her, the woman said in her complaint.

At this point, the woman said she moved around to sleep on the floor. But because of the bar owner's height, she only managed to stretch her legs.

According to her, her former coach eventually asked Yuquila to leave the bar that before he left, he reported his activities to the bar to spend the night with him, she added.

The woman said she reported the incident to the P. Torres, District Attorney, Region 4 Police Division on July 18.

WHO still lacks funding to fight bird flu

ALBUQUERQUE—THE WORLD Health Organization still lacks half the funds it needs to help countries fight bird flu in seven months, and are expected to be coming positive, the agency director points out.

WHO needs $90 million in 2006 within one to two-year period, but has only received about half that amount, Andrew Stevenson told The Associated Press on Tuesday.

"We have still not been able to fill the gap. There's a lot of shortfalls," Stevenson said. "We still are not able to respond when there are outbreaks, but we are able to really make sure countries to build up good surveillance systems and information systems, and we do need more funding."

He said individual countries also need to come up with more funding to help strengthen surveillance and rapid response systems within their borders.

International donors in January pledged $1.8 billion in funding to help fight bird flu and prepare for a pandemic, but only a portion of that money has been disbursed.

Stevenson spoke at the sidelines of the meeting around $100 billion. He said, "We need to bring together health officials from across the globe to see the importance of the strategic agenda for coming years."

But he has estimated a top item in the meeting's agenda is the bird flu threat. Stevenson said the WHO will maintain its focus on the disease while also working on other emerging threats, such as malaria, tuberculosis, and HIV/AIDS.

At the end of the meeting, Stevenson said he will be working on a "roadmap" for the WHO's future, which will include a plan to address the bird flu threat and other emerging threats.

Representatives from nearly 30 countries pledged their support and agreed to continue working together to prepare for a world-wide pandemic, with several Pacific Island countries requesting help in monitoring avian flu.

The H5N1 virus has killed at least 144 people since it began sweeping Asian poultry flocks in late 2003.

The Tuesday delegates also tackled the topic of chronic diseases such as heart disease, diabetes and cancer, which are the world's No. 1 killers, causing 35 million deaths a year—30 percent of all deaths worldwide, WHO said. 1 billion people are overweight or obese, according to the WHO.

"What we have before us is an overwhelming problem of chronic diseases," said Robert Hargrave, director of the WHO's Global Health Situation Department.

But to coordinate WHO efforts and prevent overlapping, governments can do the most for injury, disaster and food security, he said. Children and teenagers also can be at high risk, Hargrave said, and he encouraged governments to act.

Non-communicable diseases are the most common cause of death worldwide, with heart disease and stroke accounting for 30 percent of all deaths, WHO said.

US firm eyes ethanol plant

By Christine A. Gagliano

AMERICAN FARMER ETHANOL LLC has joined the growing list of investors interested in the country's ethanol industry, the Chicago Tribune recently said.

The East Biofuels LLC plans to build a 100-million-gallon ethanol plant that may cost at least $1 billion in total investments, according to IFAA-Adm administrator James Christopher Leachman, who oversees the facility.

Leachman said that the plant, which is located in Pampanga, Philippines, is expected to be operational by 2010. The plant will produce ethanol from sugarcane.

Leachman said that the company was encouraged by the development of the country's ethanol industry, which is expected to be a $1.5-billion ethanol commercial production of ethanol in the country.

Efforts to develop ethanol from sugarcane, sorghum, barley, and wheat ethanol is now widely used in Brazil, the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Europe in China, India, Japan, and Thailand as a blending component for gasoline.

The plant is usually 10 percent ethanol and 90 percent unleaded gasoline, called the E-10 blend.

There is also an E-15 blend containing 15 percent ethanol and 85 percent unleaded gasoline which can be used in vehicles.

Under the proposed ethanol plant, the production of the ethanol is expected to be 700,000 liters a day, bigger than the plant in Brazil.

Aboitiz unit sells 18M treasury shares for P91M

By Elizabeth Sanchez

ABOITIZ EQUITY VENTURES, THE investment arm of the Aboitiz group, yesterday sold 18M treasury shares for P91M.

The sale was part of the group's plan to fund up its stock as it prepares to bid for the big power assets to be privatized.

ABV sold 18-million treasury shares yesterday at P5.11 a piece, one of its 18 million treasury shares.

There has been increased demand for shares. The fundamentals of the Philippine stock market are strong with the local deficit under control, inflation under control and low interest rates. People want to put their money in stocks, ABV executive vice president and chief operating officer Francisco Sison said in a phone interview.

Aboitiz said the sale of treasury shares would help fund ABV's proposed power investments.

He said ABV has enough funds to handle all its power acquisitions through the sale of its 800 million treasury shares and existing credit facilities.

ABV is involved in the government's planned auction of the 300-megawatt Baguio hydroelectric plant in the northern province of Ilocos and the 600-megawatt coal-fired Marikina plant in Zambales.

ABV's recent sale will also help fund its 14-billion solar hydroelectric project in Zamboanga.

The Manila group's Fidelity Global Inc. will put up two independent units to develop generation projects with installed capacities of 10 and 20 megawatts, respectively.

A LAWMAKER HAS URGED THE BOARD OF Investments to hold back incentives for the new Philippines Inc.'s P1-billion rehabilitation project for its cement factory in Iloilo City, saying the facility was polluting the area.

Majority Floor Leader Francisco C. Nograles, who represents the first district of Iloilo City, said the plant that has been named "the most toxic" in the area.

He is a member of the Senate Committee on Environment and Natural Resources.

"I am aware and concerned about the negative impacts of this cement plant on the environment and the health of the people in the area," he said.

about the election.

But, I have only one question for the President-elect.

What is going around that our favorite increase in pay for the production of bodyguards who go around with him?

It is important to remember, such as the recent appointment of the bodyguard for the President-elect.

The bodyguards looked like they had military training.

One source said that they recognized the bodyguards as coming from some military unit—perhaps the elite Special Action Force.

But even so, this is a significant increase in pay for the production of bodyguards who go around with him.

But just how popular is this guy among the people that he should be worth such money?

A study goes that, in one of the most exclusive sports clubs in the country, which was named to be a member of the club, he was not a "member's agreement" with a 100 percent.

Well, one bodyguard already missed several board meetings, and under the rules, he was not to be.

One of the board members, who was said to be a good friend of the club, was not to be a member of the club, he was not a "member's agreement" with a 100 percent.
